AMST_OX 201W:
Introduction to American Studies
Fall 2018
Tuesday/Thursday, 1-2:15 pm, Language Hall 102

Instructor: Dr. Molly McGehee
Email: margaret.mcgehee@emory.edu
Office location: Pierce Hall 233
Office phone: 770.784.4532
Office Hours: Mondays & Wednesdays, 2-4pm, and other times by appointment

Image from Ellis Island website

REQUIRED TEXTS
- Abraham Cahan, Yekl
- Barbara Ehrenreich, Nickel and Dimed: On (Not) Getting By in America (2011 ed.)*
- Nella Larsen, Passing
- Gene Luen Yang, American Born Chinese

Copies of these books are available through the Oxford College Bookstore. (*Nickel and Dimed was added late, so you will want to return to the bookstore in coming weeks to purchase this text.) You may choose to purchase these texts elsewhere; if so, please get the same editions that we are using in class. You should always have the assigned reading with you in class.

ARTICLES & FILMS
You are required to read several essays and articles as well. These are available as PDFs online via our Course Reserves and Canvas sites. Always bring your assigned text to class—i.e., please print out the assigned articles or essays. Laptops and iPads are not allowed in class. Our course texts and films are also on the Reserve shelf behind the main reference desk in the library.

COURSE OVERVIEW
What are the myths put forth about life in the U.S., and what are the realities? Who counts as “American”? Is the “American Dream” just that—a dream? In this course, we will examine works that address the multiple meanings and uses of the term “American” as applied to—or kept from—individuals and groups throughout the history of the United States. Focusing on what it has meant to be (or not to be) an American at different points in time, this course will explore how people have experienced life within this country’s borders given their diverse identities and given the political, economic, and social climates surrounding them. Topics will include immigration experiences in the late nineteenth and late twentieth/early twenty-first centuries; the phenomenon of “passing” (and what that can tell us about how social constructions in the U.S.); and the struggles that many Americans face in making ends meet.

INQ DESIGNATION
Courses driven by inquiry are designed to be transformative in that students not only learn elemental concepts, principles, assumptions, and terminology of a particular discipline, but they understand and question the way knowledge is sought by actively learning and practicing the discipline’s approaches to inquiry. These explorations often engage ethical issues and social responsibility, make connections across disciplines, and create contexts for experiential learning. Ways of Inquiry courses, although primarily focused on ways of seeking knowledge rooted within a discipline, also strive to develop students’ abilities in areas that in some ways transcend disciplines: reading critically, writing cogently, communicating effectively, and independently pursuing knowledge through inquiry. The Student Learning Outcomes listed below connect to the mission of the Ways of Inquiry (INQ) courses. AMST 201QW will guide you in understanding the central concerns—and practicing the central methodologies—of American Studies as a field of academic study.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES (SLOs)
By the end of this course, students will develop their abilities to:
1. Read more closely and critically
2. Produce analytical essays in which they clearly articulate and thoroughly support a central argument
3. Think more critically about the political, economic, and social issues that shape individuals’ and groups’ experiences living and working in the United States
4. Articulate the ways in which identity categories and social constructions—including (but not limited to) race/ethnicity, class status, gender, religious affiliation, and sexual orientation—intersect to inform how an individual or group has experienced life in the United States at various points in the country’s history
5. Produce a ~10-page paper using appropriate academic sources that responds to specific research questions
6. Present research findings orally in a clear, organized, and engaging way

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Activity</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Attendance and class participation</td>
<td>100 possible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 weekly responses</td>
<td>50 possible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weekly quizzes (~10)</td>
<td>~50* possible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 essays</td>
<td>200 possible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 research project/presentation</td>
<td>200 possible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TOTAL</td>
<td>600 max. points</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

OPTIONAL Narrative of Learning

OPTIONAL TOTAL

*May vary if fewer quizzes are given

GRADING
The grading system for this course relies on a point system, meaning that you start with a 0 in this course. The only way to go is up, in other words! Each component of the course is worth a certain number of points (see Course Requirements below), and all of your points will appear in the Gradebook within Canvas. Your grade will be determined by dividing the number of points you earned by the total number of possible points (not including extra credit), which totals 600 for this semester. (If you choose to complete the Narrative of Learning, then the total will be 650 possible points for the semester.) The grading scale is as follows: A 100-93; A- 92-90; B+ 89-87; B 86-83; B- 82-80; C+ 79-77; C 76-73; C- 72-70; D+ 69-67, D 66-60, F 59 and below.

DISCUSSIONS & ATTENDANCE

- Class Participation: The success of this class depends on you (and a little bit on me). You are responsible both for attending each class session and for participating in the lively and informed discussions that will no doubt result from your having thoroughly and thoughtfully completed the assignments for each day.
- If you tend to be a less vocal participant in classroom discussions, send your thoughts or questions to me via email, talk to me after class, etc.
- Participation also involves “active” listening, including eye contact, nodding, smiling, raising eyebrows, and taking notes.
- Bring your book or assigned articles (printed out) to class.
- Texting and being generally disruptive during class meetings will NOT earn you participation points.
- If you are disruptive during class and I ask you to leave, your departure that day will count as an absence. In addition, the Advising Support Center will be informed of the incident, and the Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs will meet with you within the week.

Attendance: You are allowed 2 absences, for any reason, without penalty.
- There are no “excused” absences for medical reasons unless someone from the Office of Academic Services and/or the Access, Disability Services and Resources (ADSR) office contacts me directly about your particular situation. If you realize you will be missing multiple classes for a medical reason, please contact Lauren Braun in Academic Services ASAP so she can notify all of your professors.
- For each absence beyond 2, you will lose 1 point from your final grade average. (For example, you have a 90 average at the end of term, but you were absent 5 times total. Because of the 3 excessive absences, you would lose 3 points on that average, leading to an 87 for the course.)
- That said, please talk to me in advance about accommodations for religious holidays/observances.
- Be on time. If you come to class more than 10 minutes late, you will be counted as absent.
- If you miss class, you are responsible for obtaining notes from a classmate. Please don’t email me with the following question: “Did I miss anything important in class today?” My answer will always be “yes.”

Technology: ALL CELL PHONES SHOULD BE TURNED OFF DURING CLASS!
- Texting or using your cell phones during class automatically negates any participation points earned during class that day. This is by far by #1 pet peeve—arrgghhhh!!!!

Grading: At midterm, you will receive a participation grade out of 50 points along with feedback on how to improve your participation going forward. At the end of the semester, you will receive an additional participation grade out of 50 points. Possible points: 100 points

READING RESPONSES (5)
- See the handout at the end of this syllabus for more info about this assignment as well as the due dates.
- You will submit 5 reading responses in this course—that is one per week except during weeks when a take-home test or portion of the research project is due. (Note: You have 6 opportunities for reading responses, but you only have to submit 5.)
- Late responses will not be accepted.
- These responses are to be 350 words (or more) each, and you should also include 1-2 discussion questions at the end of the response that you would like to address in our class meetings.
- You will post the responses to Canvas (instructions attached).
- I recommend typing a response in Word first, checking your word count and spelling, and then upload your response to Canvas.
• These responses are intended to help prepare you for class discussion, to provide you with practice writing, and to provide an informal space where you can work out ideas for the more formal essays.
• Each response is worth a maximum of 10 points. Total possible points: 50 points maximum (5 responses x 10 points max each).

WEEKLY QUIZZES (~10)
• I will give a quiz once a week based on the reading assignment for the day I choose to give the quiz.
• The quizzes will consist of either 5 factual questions related to the reading or one open-ended question to which you will respond in a paragraph or two.
• Total possible points: 50 points maximum (5 points per quiz).

ESSAYS (2)
• For each of the essays, you will be asked to respond (in 5-6 pages) to a question of your choice or design.
• The questions will relate to the readings and class discussions leading up to each essay assignment.
• Total possible points: 200 points max. (100 points per essay test)

RESEARCH PROJECT

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Component</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Topic statement/ research questions</td>
<td>20 points</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Annotated Bibliography</td>
<td>30 points</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paper</td>
<td>100 points</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Presentation</td>
<td>50 points</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>200 points</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For this project, you are to research a topic of your choice related to the themes and main ideas of this course. You may work in pairs on this project or work individually. You will turn in a topic statement, an annotated bibliography of approximately 6-8 sources, and a paper in which you present your findings (approx. 10 pages; longer if working in a pair). You will also be asked to present your findings to the class in a presentation (time length TBD, but ~10-12 minutes for an individual or ~20 minutes for a pair). If you would like to pursue an alternative format to a research paper (e.g., a website; a short film; etc.), please talk to me about your ideas well in advance, but keep in mind that I can offer limited technical expertise.

In terms of topics, this is an open-ended assignment—you will just want to make sure that your topic relates in some way to the themes or ideas of the course. I will provide you with a possible list of ideas and work with you to develop your ideas...but you are free to choose your own focus. I do encourage you, however, to avoid topics for which there are very few peer-reviewed sources available.

OPTIONAL NARRATIVE OF LEARNING
The narrative of learning, due during the exam period, is optional. You decide at the end of the semester whether you will complete this assignment; if you do, your grade is calculated out of 650 points, rather than out of 600. In this short essay, you will reflect on what you took away as significant, important, or essential from this course. You will be asked to incorporate a certain number of the course texts into the essay. Total possible points: 50 points max.

EXTRA CREDIT
Throughout the semester, I will give you opportunities to raise your point total by attending and writing up a summary of outside events—such as lectures, films, performances, or exhibitions—that relate to the topics and themes of this course. If you have suggestions for such events, email your ideas to me for approval, and I will post them to Canvas. Most events will be worth 3 points. The maximum you may earn is 6 points.

NOTE ON STUDENT WORK
Student work submitted as part of this course may be reviewed by Oxford College and Emory College faculty and staff for the purposes of improving instruction and enhancing Emory education.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES AND RESOURCES

EMAIL
I am always happy to speak with you in person about your coursework. I am also happy to field your questions over email, with the exception of questions about grades (which should be asked in person). Note: I do not always check email between 5 pm and 8 am. If you email in the evening/night, I will most likely not respond until the next morning. When emailing me (or any professor or staff member, for that matter), please keep the following guidelines in mind:

1. Use an appropriate subject line for your message.
2. Always start your message with an appropriate greeting, such as “Dear Prof. McGehee” or “Dr. McGehee—“ (as opposed to “Hey”).
3. Use a professional and respectful tone within your message.
4. Proofread your message before sending. (A good way to do that and to check tone is to read the message aloud before clicking Send.)

HONOR CODE
http://oxford.emory.edu/academics/student-services/student-honor-code/ The Honor Code applies to all assignments, in and out of the classroom. All work in this course must be entirely your own. The bottom line: don’t use someone else’s ideas or words without proper citation. (This includes websites like Sparks Notes!) I am always happy to discuss with you when something needs to be acknowledged and properly cited, but it is up to you to see me before your written work is due to ask your questions about documenting sources.

OXFORD COLLEGE WRITING CENTER

- I strongly encourage you to take your essays to the Writing Center. You may do so at any stage in the writing process, but the Writing Center director and I advise you not to wait until the day before the essay is due. You could go for help to get started, to organize and develop your ideas in a rough draft, or to learn to recognize and correct errors in grammar and punctuation in a revised draft.
- Fall 2018 hours are Sunday-Thursday, 3-11 pm. The center is located on the second floor of the library. You may sign up online for an appointment at: http://oxford.emory.edu/academics/centers-institutes-programs/writing-center/. When you go to your appointment, make sure that, in addition to your draft, you have a copy of your assignment with you, as well as the book(s) you are using in that assignment. Ask the tutor for assistance on specific issues—s/he is not there (and is not allowed) to proofread your work but to guide you towards a clearer expression of your ideas.

OFFICE OF ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES

- If you have a documented disability and have anticipated barriers related to the format or requirements of this course, or presume having a disability (e.g. mental health, attention, learning, vision, hearing, physical or systemic), and are in need of accommodations for this semester, I encourage you to contact the Office of Accessibility Services (OAS) to learn more about the registration process and steps for requesting accommodations at oas_oxford@emory.edu.
If you are currently registered with OAS and have not requested or received a copy of your accommodation notification letter, please notify OAS immediately. If you have accommodations in place, I encourage you to communicate to me your specific needs for the course as soon as possible. Accommodations are not implemented until I receive an accommodation letter and discuss the accommodation plan for this course with you in person. All discussions with OAS and faculty concerning the nature of your disability remain confidential. For additional information regarding OAS, please visit the website: equityandinclusion.emory.edu/access.

COUNSELING AND CAREER SERVICES (CCS): http://oxford.emory.edu/counseling/
CCS provides many services at no cost to help address students’ personal and career development needs, including personal counseling, career counseling, and psychiatric services. To schedule an appointment, call 770.784.8394.

TITLE IX REPORTING
Any Emory employee who is informed about an allegation of sexual misconduct involving any student is required to notify a Title IX Coordinator either directly or through their relevant reporting structure. However, employees who serve in a professional role in which communications are afforded confidential status under the law (e.g., medical providers, therapists, and professional and pastoral counselors) are not bound by this requirement but may, consistent with their ethical and legal obligations, be required to report limited information about incidents without revealing the identities of the individuals involved, to a Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Title IX Coordinator. All members of the Emory community are encouraged to promptly report incidents of sexual harassment and discrimination. For more information, visit: http://sexualmisconductresources.emory.edu/policies/index.html

(Tentative*) Reading and Assignment Schedule
*Disclaimer: Should we get behind or need more time on a topic, I reserve the right to alter the reading schedule. I will not, however, alter the assignment due dates except in a case where it may help the class.

Th Aug 30 Introduction and Overview of syllabus
“The Great American Melting Pot” from Schoolhouse Rock

Coming to America, Becoming American
➢ Does the idea of the “melting pot” capture the reality of immigrant experiences?
➢ What is retained? What is left behind? Why?
➢ What forces—external and internal—have shaped immigrant populations’ lives at different points in U.S. history and those of their children?

T Sept 4 Canvas/Reserves: Lawrence Levine, “From the Melting Pot to the Pluralist Vision” (from Levine’s The Opening of the American Mind)

Th Sept 6 Canvas/Reserves: Karen Brodkin, “Not Quite White: Gender and Jewish Identity” (Ch. 4 from Brodkin’s How Jews Became White Folks and What That Says about Race in America)
T Sept 11  Abraham Cahan, Yekl, 1-45
Th Sept 13 Finish Yekl

RR#1 due this week

T Sept 18  Canvas/Reserves: Rubén Martínez, “The Crossing”
Start The New Americans in class
Th Sept 20  Discuss The New Americans

RR#2 due this week

Th Sept 27 Finish reading American Born Chinese

RR#3 due this week

T Oct 2  Excerpts from Jenny Zhang’s Sour Heart
Th Oct 4  Faculty/Staff Panel on Immigration Experiences
ESSAY #1 due in class

Free to Be Me?: “Passing” and Prescriptions of Identity in American Society

➢ What can the phenomenon of passing reveal to us about how identity categories and social constructions have structured and continue to structure U.S. society?
➢ Are individuals in the U.S. free to be who they know themselves to be?

T Oct 9  Fall Break—no class
Th Oct 11 Nella Larsen, Passing, part I

RR#4 due on Th this week

T Oct 16  Finish Passing
Th Oct 18  Canvas/Reserves: Henry Louis Gates, Jr., “White Like Me,”
The New Yorker (June 17, 1996): 66+

RR#5 due this week

T Oct 23  Topics and Research Questions due to Canvas by 1 pm/ Library Day
Marta Cunningham (dir.), Valentine Road (2013) (in class)

F Oct 26  Extra Credit event: Bryan Stevenson’s lecture at Emory (evening)

T Oct 30  Complete discussion of Valentine Road
New York Magazine (May 27, 2012)

Th Nov 1  Catch-Up Day

F Nov 2  ESSAY #2 due to Canvas by 11:59 pm

Living the Dream?: Working in the U.S.

➢ In general, what accounts for or comprises one’s class identity in the contemporary US?
How do economics define one’s class status?
➢ What other forms of “capital” define class?
➢ How do Americans mark/perform their class identities? For those defined as “working class” and/or those who live just above, at, or below the poverty level in this country, what goes into the day-to-day experience of making ends meet?
➢ What role does capitalism play in maintaining and strengthening class identities and divisions between rich and poor?
➢ How does the promise of “The American Dream” relate to class issues and identities?
T Nov 6  Canvas/Reserves: Gregory Mantsios, “Class in America—2009,” from Rereading America
New York Times wedding announcements (in class)

Th Nov 8  Frontline’s Two American Families (in class) [Note: I will be at the American Studies Association conference in Atlanta, Nov 8-10.]

T Nov 13  Annotated Bibliographies Due to Canvas by 11:59 pm
Discussion of Two American Families

Th Nov 15  Barbara Ehrenreich, “Introduction” and “Scrubbing in Maine” from Nickel and Dimed: On (Not) Getting By in America

T Nov 20  Barbara Ehrenreich, “Evaluation” and “Afterword” from Nickel and Dimed: On (Not) Getting By in America
Presentation on Presentations (in class)

Th Nov 21  Thanksgiving Break—no class

T Nov 27  Rough Draft of Presentation due in class—full PPT and notes/outline

Th Nov 29  No Class—Individual Meetings about Projects

T Dec 4  Presentations (7)

Th Dec 6  Presentations (7)

T Dec 11  Presentations (6)

Th Dec 13  Research Paper due to Canvas by 11:59 pm
Wrap Up

T Dec 18  OPTIONAL NARRATIVE OF LEARNING DUE BY 1pm to Canvas

RR#6 due on Tuesday this week
READING RESPONSES

Reading responses are due to me via Canvas under Assignments, by class time on Tuesdays or Thursdays, depending on your assigned day. You will write a total of 5 responses throughout the semester. (You have 6 opportunities to write graded responses, but you only need to submit 5.)

Below, you will find the list of due dates for these responses.

- Students whose last names begin with A to M will submit responses on Tuesdays, with the exception of response 4.
- Students with last names N to Z will submit responses on Thursdays, with the exception of response 6.
  - If you prefer to switch due dates one week, you must let me know by Sunday, 10pm, of the week that the response is due.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Due Dates</th>
<th>Group 1 (last name A-M)</th>
<th>Group 2 (last name N-Z)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Practice Response</td>
<td>T Sept 4</td>
<td>Th Sept 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Response 1</td>
<td>T Sept 11</td>
<td>Th Sept 13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Response 2</td>
<td>T Sept 18</td>
<td>Th Sept 20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Response 3</td>
<td>T Sept 25</td>
<td>Th Sept 27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Response 4</td>
<td>*Th Oct 11</td>
<td>Th Oct 11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Response 5</td>
<td>T Oct 16</td>
<td>Th Oct 18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Response 6</td>
<td>T Nov 20</td>
<td>*T Nov 20</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

You will not have a response due the same week that an essay test OR a major part of your research project is due!

Objectives

The responses are meant to accomplish the following:

1) get you writing on a regular basis,* and
2) ensure that you are not only completing the readings assignments but thinking about them critically before coming to class.

*Just like with exercise, it’s important to write on a regular basis. If you don’t, then your writing weakens. If you do, then you not only become a stronger writer, but writing becomes easier and less daunting. Furthermore, the more writing assignments you have, the more chances you have to get an A!

Because this is a discussion-heavy course, I want to make sure you are doing the reading in a way that will allow us to have lots to talk about when we meet each day. I also want to make sure that each of you is able to participate even if you are one of the less vocal members of the class.

How do I get 10 out of 10 on each response?

- These responses are to be at least 350 words in length. Type your response in Word and save it as a .doc, .docx, or PDF file; check the word count using “Word Count” under Tools.
- The response should reflect upon the reading due in class that day. On the days that you have more than one essay or article to read, you may write about only one of the readings without penalty.
- The response should be grammatically correct.
- You should incorporate textual evidence to support your point or conclusion.
• At the end of your response, you should include 2 questions for in-class discussion.
• Submit your response by class time on the day it is due. Late responses will not be accepted.

These responses should be very thoughtful and reflective. They should show that you understand the main points or premises of the reading. But they are also meant to provide you with a more relaxed space in which to play with your ideas and to make connections to your personal experiences. You can use humor and colloquial language, but your response should be intelligent and articulate…and of course, grammatically correct.

What you choose to write about is essentially up to you, but I have provided some prompts for you below. You can respond to one of these, or you can choose to write about a single idea, metaphor, phrase, or fact that piqued your intellectual curiosity.

The response should relate in some way to the reading that is due in class the following day, not about something you just pulled out of the air.

Sample prompts (but feel free to come up with your own!):
• The most interesting (or powerful or perplexing or surprising) moment in the reading was: (include reasons)
• This reading connected to [name previous text or an idea from our discussions]…(discuss the parallels or differences that you noted)
• This reading raised a central question for me: (include the question and your thoughts about it)
• One of the central ideas raised by this text is: (discuss idea and offer your response to it)

To post your response to Canvas:
1. Write your reading response in Microsoft Word and save as a PDF, .doc or .docx file.
2. Log into Canvas at classes.emory.edu.
3. Select our course AMST 201QW.
4. Go to Assignments (listed in the Menu on the left).
5. Click on the reading response you wish to complete.
6. Follow the instructions on screen for uploading your response. (I will run your document through SafeAssign, the anti-plagiarism program, before grading it.)
7. Submit the response.
8. Check back within a week to see my comments.