Directed Study
Political Science 397R
Spring, 2020
Syllabus

This course is dedicated to Abinta Kabir

Read all the information in this document carefully, so you are not surprised by requirements you may find onerous.

January 21, 2020 – Schedule Changes End.
March 6, 2020 – Partial Withdrawal without academic penalty Deadline.
April 3, 2020 – One-Time First Year Student Withdrawal Deadline.

The Honor Code is in force and will be followed completely in this course.
The Course

This course is for my TA’s. There are two books be read and the course is two credits. The first book is The Mainstream of Western Political Thought by Judith Best and the second is The Structure of Scientific Revolutions by Thomas Kuhn. There will be two or three seminars on these books which will be followed by reviews of the books that will be 900 to 1500 words long. The first review has already been done.

Course Requirements and Policies

The class will meet at a time to be determined.

My e-mail address is bshapir@emory.edu, which is the preferred mode of communication, and my phone number is 4-8334. My office is Seney 303. My office hours are by appointment.

The first book is designed to help with TA responsibilities and the second is to help any social science major at Emory College.